Now, enthusiasm is contagious. And we hope that this enthusiasm for the possibilities for Hondo will "catch." Hondo has great possibilities-we have everything here that makes for a fine community. But it must not stop at that point of realization-it must continue with hard work until that "fine community" is realized. Let's be infected with this "germ of enthusiasm" for a better Hondo. SPAIN:

Hot Spot

With leftist elements in France pressing the issue, a new government loomed in Franco Spain, long under fire for Fascist connections but reportedly countenanced by Britain because of its neutrality during World War II, which diverted direct attack on Gibraltar.

The Allies' first major step in seeking to supplant Franco came with France's closure of its border against Spain. Prodded by French proposals to take up the matter with the United Nations organization, the U. S. and Britain then reportedly agreed to form a common front to apply pressure for Franco's re-

While renouncing intentions to meddle with Spain's internal affairs, the U.S. and Britain moved to denounce the continued existence of Franco's regime and proclaim their willingness to recognize an interim representative government if he were ousted. Awaiting resolution of the situation, the U.S. and Britain would not break off economic ties or diplomatic relations, leaving the road open for negotiations for creation of a democratic govern-

FOREIGN POLICY: U. S. Stiffens

Answering demands of Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.) for a firmer foreign policy in reaching understanding with Russia, Secretary of State Byrnes declared the U. S. would go to war to curb future aggressors and peace and reparations settlements must be reached speedily and equitably to permit the economic revival of the world.

Vandenberg

Byrnes' enunciation of the administration's foreign policy followed Vandenberg's charge upon returning from the United Nations Organization sessions in London that the American representatives sat back with compromising attitudes while Russia and Britain pressed their political ambitions. Unless the U.S. pushes its ideals, Vandenberg said, Russia will continue to press ahead in the Far East, eastern Europe, North Africa and Asia Minor where off a powder keg.

In reaffirming U. S. determination to check future aggression, Byrnes ment of the three great powers precluded world domination by any one of them, but that efforts to upset the balance would imperil peace. In calling for early peace treaties, he asked for an ending of the draining of occupied countries. Demanding equitable reparations agreements, Byrnes said the U.S. would not tolerate any power deciding for itself what to take.

With the national income in each month of 1945 running below the 1944 level, the year's total dropped to 145,594 million dollars in 1945 from the record high of 160,695 million dollars in 1944. while 175,000 production employees missed 113 million dollars in wages. Dealers and salesmen were said to have lost another 100 million dollars in commissions.

Because of G. M.'s production of parts, other manufacturers have been forced to curtail assemblies, increasing profit and wage losses. At the Packard Motor Car company, 8,000 production workers have been off more than a month because of the shortage of G. M. supplies.

Of 50,000 G. M. employees in Flint, Mich., over 2,000 strike-bound workers are receiving welfare relief at a rate of $38.06 weekly.

GERMANY:

Ration Cut

Reduction of the food ration to 1,000 calories daily in the British occupation zone in Germany, and need for substantial imports into the American-held sector if the present level of 1,500 calories is to be maintained, pointed up the critical situation in the fallen Reich.

Seeking to alleviate the new hardship imposed by the ration slash and head off possible rioting, Field Marshal Montgomery flew to London to discuss ways of providing additional food for the 20 million German residents in the highly industrialized northwestern region held by the British. Because a division of British food supplies would not furnish substantial relief, however, authorities appealed to the U. S. and Russia for food shipments.

While Germans in the U. S. occupation zone are receiving a subsistence ration of 1,500 calories daily, two-thirds of the food eaten is coming from local stocks. If the present allotment is to be maintained, imports soon will have to be upped and a total of 700,000 tons shipped in during the first nine months of 1946. Because of scarcities of fertilizer, seeds, tools and farm machinery, fall crops may be appreciably curtailed.

FOOD:

Crop Readjustments

In readjusting 1946 crop goals, the department of agriculture sought to assure a greater supply of edible grain, nutritious relief fare, fats and oils and animal feed to meet not only U. S. needs but growing European emergency requirements.

Because winter wheat already has been planted, the additional 1,000,-000 acres asked will have to be seeded in the spring wheat area, continued aggressiveness may set the department declared. While North and South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota are expected to plant the bulk of the extra acreage, declared that the present arrange- other spring wheat areas were called upon to increase their crop. Since smooth dry edible peas constitute a good protein relief food and ship well, the department planned for a 100,000-acre boost in plantings, principally in Colorado, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon and Washington.

With small world supplies of fats and oils in the face of the slow movement of shipments from the Pacific and heavy overseas relief needs, soybean goals were boosted by 1,100,000 acres. Iowa, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Missouri were asked for the greatest

Faced with the need for high meat and dairy output with feed stocks dwindling, farmers were asked to increase corn production over 1,000 .-000 acres and also step up roughage cultivation. At the same time, producers were told to maintain the flow of cattle to market, ship hogs at lighter weights and cull poul-

STATE BANKS: Ship-Shape

With government bond holdings, loans and discounts and other assets showing substantial increases, the nation's 9,538 state banks boosted their total resources to almost 871/2 billion dollars in 1945. A breakdown of assets showed government bonds, totaling 50 billion dollars, made up 57.4 per cent of resources at the year end, with loans and discounts, approximating 161/2 billion dollars, next at 18.8 per cent. Cash and balances with other banks amounted to over 15 billion dollars to constitute 17.6 per cent of assets while state, municipal and private securities and other resources approximating 5 billion dollars rounded out the holdings.

The 9,538 state banks had capital stock totaling 11/2 billion dollars, surplus of 3 billion dollars, undivided profits of 1 billion dollars and reserves of 365 million dollars.

Ready Credit

Alive to the growing volume of installment financing, over 12,000 state and national banks will extend consumer credit in the postwar years, greatly expanding their prewar operations when they supplied 46 per cent of such loans in the

While not all of the banks intend to extend all types of consumer credit, 10,500 plan to make personal loans. By buying dealer paper or advancing money directly to consumers, 9,400 banks will finance sales of automobiles and 8,000 will back purchases of such goods as home appliances, farm equipment and airplanes.

Over 5,000 banks will make FHA loans covering home repairs while 7,900 will extend credit for modernization plans of small businesses or residential owners.

BIG MAN:

Grows Bigger

One of the biggest of the wartime entrepreneurs, Henry J. Kaiser continued his postwar growth with the leasing of two huge government aluminum mills at Spokane, Wash., with options to buy.

In granting Kaiser companies use of the plants, the government announced that it sought to increase competition in the industry presentdominated by two companies. Because Kaiser plans to extensively employ the metal in his automobiles, the government also said, he might open a new field for use of the material and thus open a market for other U. S.-owned aluminum

In leasing the $47,630,000 Trentwood aluminum rolling mill, Kaiser-Frazier agreed to pay a yearly rental amounting to 5 per cent of gross sales or fixed sums, running up to $2,667,000 in 1951. In obtaining the $22,270,000 Mead aluminum reduction plant, Kaiser Cargo, Inc., will pay annual charges up to $1,248,000 in the fifth year.

MEAT:

Consumer Costs

Though consumers will have to pay the full cost of the packing companies' 16 cent an hour wage boost to employees, the actual outlay will approximate only 81 cents a year per person on the basis of record consumption, the department of agriculture reported.

In arriving at the figure, department economists divided the 11/2 per cent price increase allowed packers into anticipated consumption of 155 pounds of meat per person in 1946 at an average of 35 cents a pound. However, the actual cost might be less since the estimated consumption of 155 pounds per person reflects a peak and is far above the average prewar level.

Despite the 11/2 per cent price boost granted packers to offset the wage increase, the American Meat institute termed OPA's relief entirely inadequate if livestock is to flow to legitimate channels. Even with the new price increase, the institute said, legal operators would be pressed to compete with black marketeers in bidding for cattle.

TIRE OUTPUT:

The tire manufacturing industry produced approximately one tire for every automobile on the road in 1945, casings totalling 28,147,538 units. While this exceeded the warrestricted quotas established early in 1945, output fell far short of meeting long pent-up civilian demand.

Rapidly accelerating production in the closing months of 1945 and steadily increasing production since the first of the year had carried current weekly output to an all-time record high by mid-February.

Co-Operative Backing of Programs Affords Wider National Contacts: Brings Radio Close to Local Communities.

By BAUKHAGE

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N. W. Washington, D. C.

In these days when there is so much talk about co-operatives, I would like to take this opportunity to say something about co-operative sponsorship of radio. It is a different kind of co-op, of course, but it has done a lot for broadcasting. It simply means that instead of having one big company sponsor a program over a whole network, a local concern in each town "hires" us. That is why I say the name of my boss is legion.

There are many advantages in this plan from a purely material standpoint. But to me, the greatest, from the broadcaster's point of view is the fact that co-op sponsorship provides a tremendous psychological tonic. It gives me what I call an e-pluribus-unum boost, because I have a feeling that a lot of people have elected me to my job instead of one man hiring me. I feel that I have become a citizen in a sort of new-found economic democracy.

Now from the listener's standpoint: When a program is sponsored locally, the townsfolk are bound to look on it with a lot more intimacy.

News Analyst and Commentator. We are all proud of the fact that radio has brought the world right into the listener's home. We can be equally proud of the fact that the co-operative sponsorship system has brought thousands of American communities into the broadcaster's heart and mind. The co-operative sponsorship system exemplifies the good, democratic principles of decentralization.

I think it's a great invention.

Chosen by Station WNAX, Yankton, S. D., as "typical mid-west farmers," Mr. and Mrs. John Oeser won a trip to Washington, a new tractor and money for a new wardrobe. Immediately after being received by the President, they were interviewed on our program.

They were chosen by WNAX because, while running up a remarkable production record on their farm in Westside, Iowa, they also played a leading part in the war activities of the community.

Mr. Oeser is 58 years old and is still cultivating the land his father pioneered. He and Mrs. Oeser have eight children-the one of military age is a marine-two daughters are years, feel, I am sure, that they personally, a lot more because they have almost daily personal contact with the clerks in his big department store. And that goes for the flour mill, the bank, the bakery, the dairy, the hotel, the electric power company, the finance company, the flour and feed store, and what have you (and what haven't you in the co-op dish?).

Like writing for a weekly newspaper, there is a hometown intimacy about this arrangement. This intimacy, vicarious though it may be, goes a long way toward breaking down the barrier of invisibility between the unseen broadcaster and his audience.

Highly important too, is the total goodwill engendered by the co-operative sponsorship system. It means a lot to the sponsor to have the listener realize that a hometown supported institution is paying for the program he listens to.

Before I accept a sponsor I have to know something about him. When we get together I have a chance to learn a lot more about him and he about me. Thus, my 130 bosses have helped me, in a sense, to re-discover America, and it doesn't do a bit of harm to those of us who spend so much time on Pennsylvania avenue to have a daily reminder of Main street which is the real America.

So much for direct benefits to station - sponsor - listener - broadcaster. But there is something which is even more important to radio as a whole. I believe the co-op system will go a long way toward dissolving an unfounded suspicion held by some of the general public: namely that a commentator reflects his sponsor's opinions. Personally, I have never known such a case, but the myth is widespread. Well, it is obvious that even 30 sponsors couldn't agree to disagree with their commentator on any one thing and when the number passes the hundred mark, a neutralizing effect results which produces a cross-section view that could reflect only an average of American tolerances.

The people of X-ville, listening to graduate nurses. Since the eldest me as they have for the last three | boy joined the marines, Mr. Oeser has been doing all the work on his know me better because they know | 160-acre farm with the help of his my sponsor, Joe Doe-a lot of them | wife and the 10 and 14-year-olds. They have a lot of livestock and raise enough grain on their farm to feed the cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Oeser were widely entertained while in Washington and enjoyed every minute of it. However, Mrs. Oeser was shocked at the prices of food and didn't "see how a family the size of hers could possibly afford to live in a city."

While congress recently rewrote the tax law to fit peacetime government expenditures-and the people's earnings-they had in their possession the suggestion for a new type of tax program. I say "new type" because it is sponsored by small businesses employing approximately 6,500,000 workers.

The sponsors are convinced that their comprehensive program will do a number of worthy things in addition to speeding reconversion and giving tax relief to individuals and business. They say it will also provide a favorable tax climate for small business, encourage venture capital, provide high employment at well-paid jobs, stimulate consumption, increase the national income, balance the budget at high employment levels, reduce federal expenditures and retire the national debt.

Aside from immediate reductions for individuals and corporations, the long-range program calls for the following: For the individual, an initial tax of 16 per cent and reduction of surtaxes, the rates on long-term capital gains, estate and gift taxes. Existing exemptions and credits would be retained, deductions of capital losses would be allowed on the same basis as capital gains are taxed, double taxation of dividends would be alleviated. The state chambers of commerce would continue the principle of the withholding tax while at the same time trying to improve it.

In the long term picture for business, the group would have corporation taxes reduced and the continuation of a favorable tax climate

'We're glad we could help,' Elizabeth. She took Margaret's hand and went with her into the dining from where her supper was ready. Margaret started to eat with a healthy appetite, evidently not appalled by the story she had told. When Elizabeth returned to the front room Dick was still standing by the tree and Cherry still sat on the lad-

"To my neighbors? But I don't mow anybody like that!"

"No, you don't know anybody like that." "Gee whiz," said Dick. He went over to another side of the room and sat down.

Cherry was staring at him, unconscious that there were tears in her wide-stretched eyes.

"And her father?" Dick blurted. "He and I came in together. We had been out to buy food. We had to stand in line to buy it, and I tried to help him. Because I am not Jewish things were easier for me. But I can't stand in line very long, or carry any parcels except what I can put into my pockets. We used to do the buying, it was too frightful

With Margaret and her mother gone he had no more reason to keep trying. He was like an insane man. He had no gunthey had taken that long before-so he stepped out of the window."

"But Margaret?" Elizabeth exclaimed as he paused.

"I don't know how I ever realized, just then, that the child wasn't dead. I knew something about first aid, and I did the best I could for her, and got help from a doctor at the hospital where her father had worked before the Nazis took over. We worked with her, asking ourselves every ten minutes why we were doing it. We almost agreed with her mother that it would be better to let her die. But I managed to get a letter to the French studio that had bought two of my books, and they gave us help. That was just before the war began. A few more weeks and it would have been too late.

There was a moment of stricken silence. Then Elizabeth demanded, "How can you talk about it so Your friends driven to quietly! death, a mother trying to kill her own child-and you might be talking about the weather!"

"You have to learn to talk about it like that," Kessler said. "If you don't-" He shrugged.

"Was he a very good friend of yours?" Dick asked.

"My best friend. He saved my life after the last war, and made it possible for me to walk instead of spending these years in a wheel-chair. He was a very great man."

"He was one of the most famous surgeons in Germany. And more than that, he was, as I said, a very great man. Through the worst disasters-and there were plenty of them in Germany after the last war -he had clung to his belief that no matter what happens there is always something worth saving, in one's self and in humanity. Then when he had lost everything else he iost that too. I'm not blaming him for it, but I'm sorry for it." "I don't get it!" Dick exclaimed abruptly. "I hear about such things and hear about them, but I don't get it. Why were Margaret's parents treated so?"

"Because they were Jews, for one thing."

Dick shook his head, as though the without there wasn't enough for her, room had got dark and he was trying to see. "But I still don't get it, Mr. Kessler. It doesn't make any sense at all. Even if you were bru-

"A nice sweet helpless little girl!" Cherry exclaimed.

Kessler turned toward her, and spoke earnestly. "It's not only that, Cherry. There are people in the world who haven't your sense of humanity toward helpless little girls. But it's what Dick said—even if you had no sense of humanity, why should you do that to yourself?"

"To yourself?" said Cherry, puz-

"Why yes. Why should you want to destroy your own hope in the future? Margaret's heredity includes two of the finest minds in Germany. If parents give their children anything of themselves, and we know they do, the chances are a hundred to one that Margaret is a genius. Only God knows what she's capable of becoming, but they tried to destroy her."

"Gosh!" said Dick. "Mr. Kessler -you mean that kid's liable to do something like discover radium, and she nearly got killed?"

"That's exactly what I mean. I don't know that Margaret's a genius, it's too soon to tell. But I know that in this mad killing of theirs the fascists from Berlin to Tokyo have destroyed genius, and they're still doing it. They're destroying their future, and yours. That's the real tragedy of our time. It's so terrible we don't often think about it because we can't bear it. Margaret's parents had at least had a chance to contribute some-thing to the world. But she's never had any, and those other children who didn't escape had never had any. And what it amounts to," he said clearly to Dick and Cherry, "is that your children may die of loathsome diseases because the scientists who could have saved them were killed when they were four years

"Oh, my gosh!" cried Cherry from the top of the ladder. Her hand caught at her throat. "That's what they're doing. I never thought of that till this minute. That's what it's about."

Dick stood up. "Holy smoke," he said slowly. "It's ghastly. You're right-it's too awful to think about. You just think of kids as kids, but golly-when you do think about them as growing up, or not growing up, I mean the important ones-suppose the Germans had blitzed England fifty years ago and had got Churchill, I mean, and now we'd never know.'

Elizabeth put her hands over her eyes. It seemed to her that she could suddenly see them, little boys like Brian, little girls with fat pigtails like Margaret, the Einsteins, Chiangs, Curies of the future, going in a horrible procession to annihi-Suppose the bombs had lation. dropped fifty years ago. She thought of sulfanilamide and the Four Freedoms, television and cargo planes, vitamins and the Panama Canal. Her generation had these because the men and women who brought them into being had been allowed to grow up. She could hear Kessler's voice, passionate with a great grief.

"That's the real horror of fascism. We are sick at what they are doing today, but this is such a little part of it. Their awful crime is what they are doing tomorrow. We don't know what they've already de. stroyed-a cure for cancer, a new philosophical system, a rocket to the moon. Margaret got out, but the others who didn't get out-think of the books that will never be written, the work that will never be done. They're destroying tomorrow, and tomorrow is forever.

Several days after the turn of the New Year, Kessler received a letter from Dick:

Dear Mr. Kessler,

I guess there is no use trying to tell you how shocked I was at what you said the other day. My sister felt the same way I did. I do not write very well and it is hard to say what I mean. But this is what I am getting at. I know you are a very busy man but if there is a day, maybe a Sunday, when you have some time to spare would you let me come over and see you? I did not want to bother you until after Christmas, but there are some things I have been thinking about and I would like to talk to you anyway. You seem to understand our family very well and I know they like you and would not mind anything I said to you. Let me know if this would be convenient.

Sincerely yours, Richard Spratt Herlong, Jr.

After he had read Dick's letter, Kessler sat for some time thinking, his forehead resting on his big thick hand. These months in Beverly Hills had been more difficult than he had thought they were going to be. Most things were, when you came down to them.

WASHINGTON. - Some people are wondering whether the factfinding board for the meat packing industry took the trouble to read the newspapers. If so, they might not have recommended that the housewife bear the main burden of the cost of increased wages in the meat packing industry.

The fact-finding board, which in-cluded Dr. Edwin E. Witte of Wisconsin university, Chief Justice Raymond W. Starr of the Michigan Supreme court, and Clark Kerr, former chairman of the meat packing branch of the war labor board -three able men-decided that a 16-cent pay increase was fair and equitable for meat packing workers. But they added that only five cents of this was "absorbable by the meat industry without price or subsidy relief."

In other words, the fact finders recommended that the big meat packers could pay only 5 cents of the 16-cent wage increase out of their own pockets. The rest would have to be passed on to the consumer or the government. Their report was filed February 7.

However, early in December, long before the fact-finding board was appointed, a number of smaller meat packing plants had already signed contracts with the CIO and AFL for 15 cents an hour pay increase without any strings attached regarding increased meat prices.

The small packers who signed such agreements included Hygrade Food Products of New York, George A. Hormel of Austin, Minn., and others in the Chicago area.

Apparently, the fact finders did not take this into consideration. Apparently also, they ignored the fact that Swift and company previously had agreed to a pay boost of 10 cents an hour without any strings attached regarding increased meat prices to the housewife.

For, despite Swift's offer of 10 cents an hour and the smaller companies' increase of 15 cents, the fact finders recommended that only 5 cents of the 16-cent increase could be paid for by meat packers. The remaining 11 cents will be passed on to the housewife-unless the government votes a subsidy.

BREAD WASTE SCANDAL.

Department of agriculture sleuths have been doing some quiet checking of unscrupulous bakeries which violate bread sales regulations in order to kill off competition.

Despite the fact that the nation has been forced on a "dark bread" diet to help feed war-starved peoples of the world, thousands of loaves of good bread are still going to waste, or being fed to hogs and chickens.

It works like this:

If a big bakery is trying to grab business away from a competing bakery, it will begin supplying grocery stores on a "consignment basis," which means that grocers' shelves are loaded up with supplies of bread in excess of what they can sell. The following day-sometimes the same day-drivers pick up the unsold loaves and replace them with fresh stock, charging the grocer only for the bread actually sold. Idea is to promote sales of a particular brand of bread because of its "freshness."

This is a violation of war food order No. 1, but it hasn't stopped certain bakeries in Houston, Texas, Richmond, Va., San Francisco, Cleveland, Kansas City and St. Louis from carrying on the practice on a huge scale.

Instead of making their returned stocks of one-day-old bread available at a reduced price to poor families, the loaves frequently wind up in garbage bins. One Texas farmer who tipped off the department of agriculture about conditions in Houston said he had been buying wagon-loads of bread "fresh enough to eat" to feed his hogs and chickens.

ATOM VS. BATTLESHIP

Unless President Truman does something drastic about it very soon, the forthcoming atomic tests in the Pacific, scientists say, may turn out to be a study in waterspouts instead of atomic energy.

On-the-surface atomic-bomb explosions, the scientists claim, will add nothing to the knowledge already accumulated from previous explosions at New Mexico, Hiroshima and Nagasaki, except that we may learn the size and damage of the world's largest water spout.

OPA has nothing to do with issuance of any priority for any item. Inquiries on building materials for homes should be sent to the Federal Housing Association, Room 511, Alamo National Bank Building, San Antonio 5, Texas while priorities on commercial building matrials, textile materials and piece goods are handled by the Civilian production Administration, Washington 25, D. Civilian Production Administration has no field office (except for enforcement) in the entire state of Texas, so correspondence should not be sent to cties where the former War Production Board operated.

If someone tries to tell you that OPA is holding up reconversion you can prove they're wrong.

Employment in America is at the highest peacetime level in our history despite current labor management disputes. Reconversion is www between 90 and 95 percent complete. National department store sales for the last four months of 1945 were per cent above the last four months of 1944.

Employment is high only when there are jobs. Jobs are available because industry has reconverted rapidly. THAT RECONVERSION UN DER PRICE CONTROLS IS AL MOST COMPLETE IS PROOF THAT OPA HAS NOT RETARDED RECONVERSION.

GEORGE HEILIGMAN DEALER

Yancey

Devi

You aren't getting machinery, Mr. Farmer, because...

have taken the place of

PRODUCTION LINES!

... so don't blame your Implement Dealer!

YOUR implement dealer had planned and expected to have his display floor filled with new implements and tractors weeks ago. And we had planned to make them-had told our dealers and our farmer customers they would have new equipment and plenty of service parts for the 1946 spring work. And we had hoped to sell these machines at no advance in price.

Real Production Had Started

When the war ended, our organization bent every effort to increase production, with the result that in the last months of 1945 machinery was being built in very substantial quantities. Here are a few figures:

PRODUCTION NOV. 1945 DEC. 1945 7,432 2,526 Cultivators 3,482 3.308 Hay Loaders 209 982 6.702* *Plows are made in our Canton and Chattanooga Works, which are not on strike. January production was 7,747 plows. Both your dealer and we were encouraged by this production picture at the turn of the year. But the strike changed all that. As you know, the CIO United Farm Equipment & Metal Workers of America called a strike in ten of our plants, on January 21, 1946.

What Is The Strike About?

Wages are a basic issue. At the time of the strike, Harvester employes were among the highest paid workers in American industry. When the strike began, the average hourly earnings in the ten plants, not including overtime, were $1.151. If present wage proposals are adopted, this figure will become $1.33½ per hour.

When the strike began, negotiations were broken off by the Union on the issue of compulsory union membership. The Company has no desire to weaken the Union. It recognizes certain reasonable needs of the Union. But the Company does oppose compulsory unionism. It feels strongly that an employe's membership should be a matter of his own choice.

Material Costs and Price Relief

Wages and materials are the great costs of operating our business-together they consume all but a few cents of every dollar the Company takes in. Wages are obviously going to be high-and nobody knows just how high material costs will go.

In the face of riving costs of materials, the Company does not see how it can pay the wage increases recommended by a Government fact finding board until it has definite and satisfactory assurance from the Government that reasonable price relief will be granted to the Company within a reasonable period of time. This matter is of such importance that it will not be discussed here, but will be covered by future advertisements devoted to both prices and profits.

Speaking for our dealers and ourselves, we can assure you that no customer is more eager than we are to resume production. We are doing and shall continue to do everything in our power to bring about a fair settlement as soon as possible.

Where Is Your New Home Now?

Right now the home you want to build is in the tree, the iron ore pits, the clay banks and the Legislation, HH priorities, allocations, preference ratings, will not build a home. Neither will such legal juggling of a meagre supply of materials produce building materials. An HH priority may mean little more than a license to hunt homebuilding materials.

Lumber and building material dealers and contractors can build all the homes America needs-if building materials are available. But unless production of materials is unblocked, no one can build homes. Whether a house is labled "Public Housing" or "Prefabricated Housing" or a "Privately Built Home"—all are bidding for the same supply of materials.

Here are the materials that must be produced. These are the materials in short supply which are subject to distribution conerols through priorities:

Lumber Concrete Block Clay Sewer Pipe Structural Clay Tile Cast Iron Soil Pipe Cast Iron Radiation Common Brick Millwork Face Brick Gypsum Board Gypsum Lath Bath Tubs

What has happened that all these essential building materials are lacking? Have we exhausted raw material supply? Or plant production?

NO! But the irresistible force of industry has run into an immoveable body!

In the case of Brick and Tile, for example, it took the OPA six months to grant a price adjustment that allowed 125 of 400 closed plants to reopen. This action resulted in a 35% increase in production within the following three months.

Similarly, OPA's unrealistic pricing policies blocked adequate production of Gypsum board and lath, cast iron soil pipe, and clay sewer pipe for Although price adjustments have been granted in the above-mentioned fields, lumber production still remains under wartime pricing formulas.

It is still more profitable for the lumber mill to cut items for export to foreign countries, or to cut logs into sizes used by industry than it is to manufacture lumber for home construction. Premium prices for industrial items have been granted in some instances during the war, but now that peace has come, price adjustments encouraging home construction lumber have not been made by OPA.

Price adjustments are needed to obtain maximum production of hardwood flooring, millwork, ceiling, siding, and plywood.

Recommendations have been made to the OPA repeatedly, but action is not forthcoming.

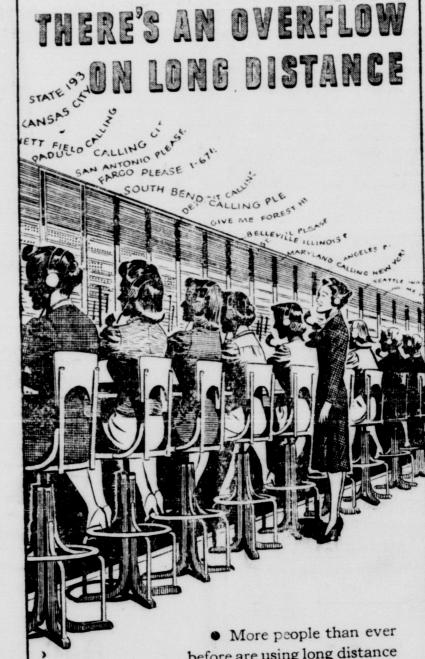

The Building Industry stands ready to build the homes Americans need. But until the production and flow of materials is unblocked by OPA, thousands upon thousands of homes for Americans and veterans will go unbuilt!

ANY GOVERNMENT PROGRAM THAT DOES NOT FIRST REMOVE THE OBSTACLES BLOCKING PRODUCTION OF MATERIALS WILL SIMPLY ADD ADDITIONAL DIFFICULTIES TO THE PROBLEM FACING THE BUILDING INDUSTRY.

LET'S TAKE STOCK NOW

Everybody wants goods.

Manufacturers want to make them for you.

Yet months after the war's end, you still find it difficult to get many of the things you want and should have.

So, isn't this the time for all of us to take stock . . . to learn a lesson . . . to find out, if we can, what will cure the troubles we are having and prevent their recurrence?

Let's look ahead and agree on a program that will insure the full production everybody agrees is the real answer to most of our problems.

Suppose we begin by taking a good look at three roadblocks to prosperity...

STRIKES

Whatever their justice or injustice, strikes paralyze production, force people to use up their savings, and result in losses that can never be made up.

PRICE CEILINGS

Full production isn't possible when industry suffers losses because of rising costs and frozen prices. Price ceilings limit production - goods just don't get made.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Continued huge government spending means continued high taxes. High taxes discourage production, hinder the creation of jobs, and leave you less to spend.

ISN'T THIS THE WAY?

The people, through Congress, can remove these roadblocks in the longrange interests of all ...

By establishing a labor policy that will treat labor and management exactly alike, and above all be fair to the public;

By removing the shackles of price control on manufactured goods;

By entting down on government spending now and balancing the Federal budget by the 1947 fiscal year at a level of income and outgo that taxpayers can stand.

Do you believe this program is in the public interest?

Your Representatives in Congress are the only ones that can put it into effect. Tell them how you feel about it.

"Easy does it"

Yes, "easy does it" when loading, unloading or handling livestock.

Bruises, crippling and death losses cost American stockmen 12 million dollars each year-equivalent to the value of a single file of market hogs stretching all the way from St. Louis to Chicago.

And the producers do pay those losses; directly through deaths and excessive shrink caused by bad loading and shipping practices . . . indirectly through bruises (we find them in over 20% of all livestock slaughtered!) which reduce the value of otherwise good carcasses. Yet a great part of those losses can be prevented with a little extra care when loading, unloading and handling.

So, that's why we suggest "easy does it"-and that you keep these six 'loss-stoppers' in mind: (1) Never beat animals with whips or clubs. Use canvas slappers or electric prods...(2) Inspect chutes, trucks and cars for nails, splinters, etc. . . . (3) Furnish good footing; bed properly. For hogs, cover dry sand with straw for winter shipping; use wet sand in summer . . . (4) Cover floors of loading or unloading chutes with straw . . . (5) Do not overload. Partition mixed loads . . . (6) Easy does it when trucking. Avoid sudden starts and stops. Check your load frequently for crowding.

We'll be glad to mail you instructive Agricultural Research Bulletin No. 20, "Preventing Losses in Handling Livestock." Address request to Department BB, Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Ill.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

F.M. Simpson. Editor

There's an old story about a downstate cattle feeder who brought a load of steers to Chicago to be sold. He turned them over to his commission man, then wandered around the

Yards, for it was his first trip to Chicago. was back, all excited—"Sell those steers right away for whatever you can get. There's not enough peo-ple in the world to eat all the cattle I've seen here!" The salesman managed to calm him down and sent him downtown to see the city. He landed in the heart of Chicago, took one look at the crowd of people, and dashed into a drugstore to 'phone his salesman. "Hold those steers of mine for the highest price. There's not enough meat in the world to feed all these people!"

This old story makes a good point. All of you know the price we can pay for your livestock is governed by what we can get for the meat and by-products. Also you know that what we can get for the meat and the by-products is greatly affected by the supply of livestock and the demand for meats. The ever-present problem among producers and meat packers is the matching of the supply with the demand, wherever the supply and demand may be. The job of nation-wide meat packers is to balance the supply of meat with the demand by efficient distribution of the meat to the places where people want to buy it.

seeding abandoned land to adapted range grasses. Intermediate wheatgrass, crested wheatgrass, Russian wild rye, smooth brome grass, and western wheatgrass have done well in Colorado dry-land pastures. They may be seeded in early spring or late fall.

KEEP EWES WITH GOOD FLEECES

by Dean J. A. Hill, University of Wyoming

Before shearing time, range flock ewes should be carefully examined and the ones with poor fleeces marked for culling later. Experience in western states during 25 years has shown that 20 to 30% more wool per sheep can be obtained by the systematic selection of range ewes.

One livestock man reported that the average weight of fleeces from his flocks, of about 40,000 head, had increased nearly 3 pounds during a period of ten years of systematic culling in cooperation with the University of Wyoming. He got better lambs, too. Others report similar results obtained by searching out and discarding the ewes which are below standard in wool production.

With today's high costs, any range ewe which does not shear a big fleece of first-class wool is a money-loser. By a systematic examination, any flock master can find the ewes with fleeces which are one or more pounds less than the average of his flock. The agricultural colleges of practically all the western states are glad to help flock masters get started in a program of wool improvement.

Martha Logan's Recipe for CREOLE PORK CASSEROLE *

(Yield: 9 Servings)

11/2 cups cooked tomatoes

11/2 cups grated cheese

11/2 pounds ground pork 3 onions

3/4 teaspoon salt 11/2 cups cooked macaroni 3/4 cup bread crumbs

Chop onions fine, and brown with pork in fry pan. Drain off fat. Add macaroni, tomatoes, cheese and salt. Turn into baking dish, cover with crumbs. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.).

It is a far cry-an average of over 1,000 miles-from livestock on the Western range to meat on the kitchen Ollie E. Jones is the man wac, perhaps more than any other, helps bridge that gap. Ollie Jones, born on a farm in central Illinois, has never lost his interest in agriculture. He now produces and feeds livestock on his 500-acre farm in Illinois. Taking a beginner's job with Swift & Company, he learned the business literally "from the ground up." He advanced steadily through many divisions of the Company, to become vice president in charge of sales, advertising and merchandising.

The nationwide sales departments which he heads market more of the products of American farms and ranches than any other organization in the country. That's why we say at the start of this story, "You raise 'em—he sells 'em."

NEW STATE POLICY RETREAT TO RUSSIA

WASHINGTON. - In complete official privacy, the state department has spent some weeks getting up a new statement of American for-eign policy. The only great question of policy, of course, is how to treat Russia. On this, the paper was not illuminating in its original form.

The Byrnes policy established at Moscow and London since mid-fessed purpose has been to entice Russia out of her nationalistic isolation into dealing in the world of affairs.

This has kept world news rather calm but events behind the news, particularly from Europe, are working up boldly and may break sensationally. Do not for instance, let yourself be currently misled into believing the domination of the French government by Communists and Socialists is a permanent arrangement, or that the name of De Gaulle will remain forever in retirement from French politics.

Give greater notice than has been given to the victory of the Belgian Catholic party over both Communists and Socialists. Belgium is half French, with all the same elements of French politics in miniature. Indeed throughout Europe, even in Yugoslavia, the resistance to Communism is taking the only effective form yet evidenced in the gathering together of Catholic elements.

I have heard American statesmen say these christian groups are the only ones in the world today who know how to resist Communism, ideologically or politically. These groups have a firm ideology them-

PUT ENGLAND ON DEFENSIVE

Britain was the first nation to talk up to the Soviets, but the diplomatic resistance of Bevin at the London UNO conference was tactical rather than formidable. The Russians had raised the question of British influence in Greece, primarily to cover their own tracks in Poland, the Balkans, Iran, Turkey and other places where they are attempting to extend their influence. They forced Britain to the defensive by raising this question. After accomplishing this purpose, and succeeding in getting UNO to allow Moscow to deal separately with a pro-Communism Iranian prime minister installed at Teheran for the purpose - Russia withdrew her Greek charges against Bevin.

The common current belief that Bevin may have found a way of treating with Moscow therefore is unjustified. He twice passed "the lie" to them and they backed down, true enough. But when you add up the results, you will see Russia won the action she wanted from UNO, while Bevin won nothing except the red herring.

President Truman, meanwhile, is recognizing that the army seems to know how to get along with the Soviets, without losing their shirts, beter than our timid and confused diplomats. He chose General Marshall to go to China to get Chiang into a peace with the Communists; and now he selected General Eisenhower's chief of staff to be ambassador to Moscow, instead of a diplomat or a politician.

Army men, by nature, should be more interested in results than in the political ideas of justice for this and that, which have so confused our diplomats in recent years. (Latest example: Joe Davies, who thinks Russian spying on Canada justified, but no doubt would cry out against any Canadian spying on Russia, whereas any realist knows all nations have always spied on all others and always will.)

This new reliance on army realism is the most hopeful development in American foreign policy, in contrast to these childish 'but pompous accumulations of vaporous generalities the state department plans to put out under the claim that they are great state pronouncements. I mean it is most important, if a recent pronouncement by Mrs. Roosevelt does not outmeasure it. Mrs. Roosevelt has been recognized as a spokesman for the class-thought which pressured Byrnes into the appeasement policy, causing him to retreat.

Woman's World Unused Dresses Will Make Attractive Blouses, Jumpers

By Ertta Haley

A S YOU thumb through your closets preparatory to spring cleaning, you'll probably come across at least two dresses that are sadly worn and unwearable. With the clothing shortage and also the expense of buying new clothing, you would do well to consider the prospect of remodeling this clothing into something distinctly attractive and new looking.

One garment that has plenty of calls for wearing is the jumper. When it's tailored, the jumper is ideal for business wear or sports. If it's made of velvet or another of the more decorative materials, the jumper makes an attractive date dress.

Before any remodeling is attempted, the dress should be cleaned or washed thoroughly and ripped apart completely. Take care while ripping so that no threads in the material are pulled, and material so made useless. If you want to change the color of the dress, remove the old dye first. If, of course, you are dyeing it a darker color, the original shade does not have to be removed.

For the classic jumper, trim off the sleeves and cut the armholes, making them fairly large. If you are uncertain as to the exact shape you desire, consult a pattern. Trim down the neckline, too, into a

Find an unwearable dress . . .

If the original skirt is flared, this may be retained in the jumper, but it will add a note of smartness to make wide, deep pockets out of the sleeves. In some tailored materials, these pockets take on new interest if they are stitched in contrasting thread.

In some jumpers, a capped sleeve treatment is used. This is easily done simply by recutting the sleeve, leaving enough material to fold under for finishing; or, the sleeves may be ripped out and the capped effect achieved through the use of wide bands of grosgrain or faille ribbon. This is done after the dress

At the beginning of this article I spoke about the possibility of your finding two dresses in the closet. Thus far, only one of the dresses has been mentioned. The other dress might well be made into a blouse to go with the jumper so that you will have a complete costume.

Select Jumper Blouse In Contrasting Color

The blouse for the jumper should be contrasting in color to the jumper, itself, or it may blend with that garment. With so many new prints out this season, a worn print, provided it looks well with the solid color you have used in the jumper, would be highly desirable.

If, however, the jumper is of a rather conservative dark shade, the blouse can be a solid bright color that blends with the jumper. Bright red goes beautifully with navy blue, or cerise is a lovely foil for aqua.

You'll find ample material in most worn dresses for a blouse of, almost any style and design. The most popular type for jumper wear is the blouse that ties in a bow at the neck, or one that has a neat collar treatment and buttons down the front. The sleeves may be long or short depending upon your taste and the material available.

If the dress is tailored, it may not be necessary to rip the complete garment. Sometimes the bodice of the dress just needs trimming from the skirt and finishing to make the complete blouse.

If you do want to make a brand new blouse, rip the dress and start as you would with new material. Recut the sleeves and make them long or short. Add a new collar if the dress has one that is too fussy, and do bear in mind the type of jumper when you are making the

Mending Pointers

Men's worn-out shirt cuffs may be cut off and turned. Soft collars can sometimes be purchased at a notions counter, or, they may be taken off other shirts that are not usable.

Never stop stocking runs temporarily with nail polish as this frequently damages the thread of the hose permanently. Reinforce weak spots by darning carefully before the holes appear. This is especially true for hose that tends to wear in the heels or toes or on top of the stocking.

Patch slips that wear out underneath the armholes. If the straps are worn, replacements may be purchased and sewed on easily.

Heavy linen thread is recommended for button sewing. Buttons will stay on better if they are sewed with a thread shank that permits the iron point to get closer to them without snapping off the button.

Hooks and eyes are best sewn with double thread and an over and over stitch through holes. Sew over hook near top to hold it down. The straight metal bar or thread bar worked with a blanket stitch is placed on the seam line. The curved eye extends slightly beyond edge of the open-

To mend a diagonal tear, darn with small running stitches parallel to lengthwise thread but in the direction of the tear. Over these stitches work another set of right angles to the first.

Spring Fashion Notes

If baby brother wants a sailor so as to keep him neat longer.

For after-work, you'll want to concentrate on checked gingham short button-front styles

The angular outline in shoulders is disappearing and the rounded ef-lines and peplums go to make up smart, cool dresses for the summer and spring. Choose a dark background and trim in bright or pastel colors.

DAUL MUNI (starring in Charles R. Rogers' "Angel on My Shoulder") tells this one. When he first reached Hollywood, under contract to a film company, he was already famous as a Broadway star. But for six months he did nothing but collect his pay check. Finally he protested to his new boss, who told him not to worry, just to amuse himself-go to Honolulu if he wanted to, leaving word where his check was to be sent. Finally "Scarface" came along, bringing him fame as a movie star overnight. It made so much money for the company that those months when Muni didn't work meant nothing.

It's a good thing Ray Milland isn't jittery; in "California" he gets shaved while sitting in a barber chair in which a man was scalped and murdered. That was way back in 1848, and the murder took place during an Indian uprising, but the blood stains are still visible on the head rest. Later, the chair was used in General Fremont's headquarters in Monterey.

On the set of Metro's "The Showthey brought in a Great Dane who plays an important role. Red Skelton held out his hand, but the dog didn't extend a paw - he knocked Skelton down. Skelton looked up with dawning recognition -it was the dog that was specially trained for Metro's "Eathing Beauty" two years before, trained to knock Skelton down every time he saw him!

The first postwar building project at the Warner studio will be an $11,000 addition to the studio schoolhouse; there'll be larger classroom facilities for young players, a waiting room for mothers, and special equipment for the care and feeding of infant actors.

Madeleine Pierce, radio's baby specialist who is three-year-old 'Jill" in "Young Dr. Malone," insists on being introduced to her audience before performances. Once as she approached the mike the audience, expecting adult speech, burst into giggles when Madeleine began; she was playing a baby, and only a couple of gurgles and a stream of goos came from behind the pillow used as a prop.

Ann Sothern's working in pictures again for the first time since the birth of her daughter, Patricia Ann Sterling, in December of 1944. She's doing another "Maisie" film.

A recent Hooperating lists Bob Hope as the leader of the first 15 evening radio programs, with Fibber McGee and Molly, second, and Fred Allen third; Jack Benny's fourth. Ten years ago the popularity rating ran Major Bowes, Burns and Allen, Rudy Vallee, Jack Benny. In those days Bing Crosby was 14th; he's 6th on the list now, though he's been back on the air so short a time.

The new March of Time, "Report on Greece," is a factual picture story, photographed on the spot, revealing the situation there from the incredible inflation and paralysis of transportation to the rise of new political parties.

Spring Salads

One of the best ways of fulfilling the vitamin and mineral requirement in the diet is to have a heaping bowl of fresh salad at luncheon or dinner. If tasty combinations of fruit and vegetable are used, the family will enjoy nibbling these precious morsels of health.

Salad greens should be washed thoroughly and examined carefully to insure the removal of all foreign substances. Then they are placed in a towel or a vegetable hydrator and chilled before being folded together. The bowl in which the ingredients are mixed and the plates on which the salad is served should also be chilled.

When salad materials are cut in pieces, they should be uniform and well-defined enough so that they will not lose their shape in the folding

A marinade is often used to add flavor to salad materials. This is made by mixing oil, salt, lemon juice or vinegar. Vegetables, fish or meat may stand an hour or so in the marinade before using. When several vegetables are used, each one should be marinated separately.

I have chosen several crisp salads which I know you will enjoy using. They will be particularly welcome with fish dinners or meals made up of casseroles or other hearty foods.

- 1 cup diced, cooked carrots
- 2 cup diced celery 1 cup shredded cabbage

Soften gelatin in cold water. Mix the vinegar, lemon juice, salt, sugar and boiling water together. Bring to the boiling point, and add softened gelatin. Stir until gelatin dissolves. Chill until syrupy. Fold in vegetables. Chill until firm. Serve with mustard salad dressing

LYNN SAYS

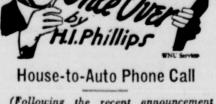

Meat Cooking Hints: Grinding less tender cuts of meat breaks down tough connective tissue and makes them tender. Use ground meat for patties, meat loaves and meat pies. Canned meats and ready-to-eat meats may be heated or served with vegetables and a starchy food. There is little waste in them, making them economical. In buying ham, it is best to buy a whole ham rather than slices.

Center slices bought separately are usually twice the price of ham bought whole. Steak continues to cook after it is removed from the broiler.

Serve it at once, if you want it medium or rare. Stuff corned beef hash into green pepper halves, top with grated cheese for a quick supper idea.

Traction Bars. Give GROUND GROUND

TESTS conducted under a wide range of soil and weather conditions proved conclusively that Firestone Ground Grip tires will give your tractors up to 16% more pull on the drawbar. That's because only connected, triple-braced traction bars...with their extra tread-bar length in the center of the pulling zone...take a "Center Bite."

Besides giving Firestone Ground Grips a "Center Bite," connected traction bars also insure better cleaning. There are no brokenbar, trash-catching pockets such as you see on ordinary tires. The connected bars are stronger, too, because they are triple-braced. This added strength increases tread life.

These money- and time-saving features are responsible for today's farm preference for Firestone Ground Grips. And they are the reasons why it will pay you to have Firestone Ground Grips on your present tractors and to specify Ground Grips when you buy a new tractor.

*Area in white shows the "Center Bite" traction zone, not found in other tires because of Firestone's exclusive patent rights.
